

The Coming Wave of Wartime Drone Expertise

Description

When the conflict in Ukraine inevitably ends, Russia and Ukraine will be forced to fully or partially demobilize, which will release thousands to tens of thousands of veterans back to civilian life with expertise in designing, building, and employing weaponized drones. The U.S. military, law enforcement agencies, and civilians are unprepared to face the looming threat of weaponized drones at home and abroad. Read more from the article written by our very own Walker Mills in War on the Rocks originally published here.

Date Created

2025/03/12